Collaboratively we aim to support children with disabilities so that they can lead a life of dignity.

Club Foot is a birth defect in which the foot is twisted out of shape or position.

The cause of clubfoot is unknown. Babies with clubfoot are usually otherwise healthy.

In clubfoot, the foot appears twisted and can even look as if it's upside down. Despite its appearance, clubfoot itself doesn't cause any discomfort or pain.

Treatment is usually successful. It includes stretching and casting (Ponseti method) or stretching and taping (French method). Sometimes, surgery is required.

Celebrating World Cerebral Palsy day, 6th October, 2023

Message from the Managing Trustee on World CP Day, 6th October

As we celebrate World Cerebral Palsy day, I wanted to take a moment to reflect on our journey of building and growing Mission Cerebral Palsy. What started with a simple need for special chairs in a remote village of Satara district, has now grown into a network of collaborators and supporters — all geared towards making the world more welcoming and inclusive for individuals with disabilities.

Today, 8 years down the line, we have assessed over a thousand children, established nine Cerebral Palsy Rehabilitation Centres, and managed to provide a ray of hope in the lives of parents and children who previously had to travel miles to access adequate healthcare. I'm grateful for all those who have supported us on this journey and hope that with collaboration and conversation, we can continue to impact more lives, together. 70 tree plantation done at the premises of Finolex guest house
