Inauguration of Period Positive Holiday Homes. 5th March 2025

Mukul Madhav Foundation (MMF), proudly inaugurated three Period Positive Holiday Homes in Gadchiroli on 4th March 2025 with the funding support from 2 Corporates Hinduja Foundation and Finolex Industries Limited.

The inauguration ceremony was attended by local villagers, the Sarpanch, community women, and Finolex Industries representative Mr. Abhishek Rai, who all came together to celebrate this important milestone.

This initiative is part of Finolex Industries Limited (FIL) and Mukul Madhav Foundation's ongoing commitment to improving menstrual health and hygiene for tribal and rural women in Maharashtra, particularly in regions like Palghar, Gadchiroli, and Ratnagiri. Since 2017, FIL/MMF has been working closely with Kherwadi Social Welfare Association (KSWA) to address critical social issues in these districts, including health, sanitation, and women's empowerment.

In Gadchiroli, menstruating women from certain tribal communities, such as the Madias and Gonds, continue to face the practice of banishment to 'Period Huts' or 'Kurma Ghars'—isolated, often unsafe structures at the edge of villages or forests. Women are expected to spend their menstruation period in these huts, sometimes alone or occasionally with another woman. This deeply rooted cultural practice exposes them to physical, emotional, and health-related risks.

Period Positive Holiday Homes:

FIL/MMF, in collaboration with KSWA, has been transforming this practice by creating safe, dignified, and comfortable 'Period Positive Holiday Homes.' These homes are equipped with:

- Beds for comfortable rest
- Toilets to ensure proper sanitation
- Kitchenettes for cooking needs
- Fans for ventilation
- Solar lights to ensure safety at night
- Sewing machines for tailoring classes, empowering women with vocational skills during their stay

Impact So Far in Gadchiroli:

- 21 Period Positive Holiday Homes completed in Gadchiroli
- 450 Individual toilets constructed
- 100 Smokeless chulhas (stoves) provided for cleaner cooking environments
